

MARY ROSE ACADEMY

Name of Policy: Positive Behaviour Policy

Date of Policy: October 2007

Person Responsible: Assistant Headteacher, Learning and Development

Review Date: July 2017

Rationale

A calm, orderly environment is essential for pupils to learn most effectively. It is the responsibility of the school to provide that environment in order that pupils and staff can make most use of lesson time for the real purpose of education.

The school recognises the importance of teaching appropriate behaviour and does this explicitly through the curriculum and implicitly by example, creating an ethos of high expectations coupled with trust, care and support. This document aims to provide the framework to enable an orderly environment to prevail and to allow members of the school community to concentrate upon its main aims.

It also recognises that within a climate of inclusion there will be pupils who need a personalised approach to their specific behavioural needs. In some cases this will mean that the general, whole school sanctions and rewards are not the most appropriate means of dealing with their behaviour and other programmes of intervention and support may be used in conjunction with external agencies.

The importance of taking a multi-agency approach to behaviour management is central. Following the introduction of 'Every Child Matters' we as a school recognise the lead we may be required to take in consulting and communicating with other agencies.

Mary Rose Academy aims to:

- Create a school learning environment that encourages our pupils, staff and partners to develop a healthy lifestyle
- Work with a wide range of partners to ensure the safety and well-being of our pupils
- Create a place where pupils enjoy learning and achieve excellence
- Be a listening school where the contributions of young people are taken seriously and acted upon

- Prepare our young people for transition into adult life

Aims

The chief aims of our approach to behaviour are:

- To enable effective learning and teaching and encourage achievement and independence
- To prepare pupils for becoming good citizens with socially acceptable behaviour
- To maintain, encourage and promote positive behaviour, build confidence and raise self-esteem
- To create a safe and secure learning environment for all
- To teach pupils respect, tolerance, acceptance and understanding of others
- To maintain a firm, consistent and positive approach across the school to the management of what we consider to be unacceptable behaviour

At Mary Rose Academy every member of staff is expected to adhere to “The Bubbles Ethos” which was written by staff and can be found in the Staff Handbook.

Responsibilities

The Governing Body in conjunction with the Headteacher have a general responsibility in maintaining high standards of discipline and behaviour, to approve policy and guidelines on use of reasonable force. Additionally, the Headteacher is responsible for achieving these standards and ensuring that they are applied consistently and fairly across the school.

The Teachers and Teaching Assistants (TAs) should provide a well planned curriculum and environment, to reduce the likelihood of behaviour issues. They are also immediately responsible for dealing with disruptive or unacceptable behaviour, they must use their own judgements as to how it should be handled but this should be within these guidelines. They are also responsible for developing Positive Behaviour Plans for those pupils who require them.

Parents are asked to work in partnership with the school in implementing behavioural programmes and in response to specific difficulties. This is highlighted in Home School Agreements

Everybody associated with the school is responsible for providing a well planned and safe environment, which supports the school's aims and vision and to provide positive role models for the pupils All staff are responsible for a consistent approach to implementing the aims of this policy and for managing the behaviour of pupils.

Promoting Positive Behaviour

It is important that we remain as positive as possible at all times. We have a supportive school with a caring ethos. In order to make the most of this it is expected that there will be a number of means within the school of rewarding and celebrating achievement and good behaviour. These may include:

In class

- Consistent use of positive praise and encouragement
- Use of stickers and other motivators to reward effort and achievement
- A class 'token' pot for collection of tokens awarded for good behaviour of the class generally
- Additional group and class rewards decided by the class teacher in conjunction with the pupils
- Extra privileges in class e.g. giving additional jobs or responsibilities
- The use of circle time to celebrate and share
- Each child having an award card to collect a record of celebrations
- Notes home to parents/carers in home/school communication books
- Star/Student of the week on display

Guidelines to encourage Positive Behaviour

Whole school:

At Mary Rose Academy we expect:

Respect
Support
Consideration
Understanding

To achieve these all pupils will be encouraged to:

- Be friendly, polite and respectful

- Be kind and helpful
- Listen to staff and do as they are asked
- Look after personal and school property
- Try their best at all times

Where appropriate individual classes are encouraged to develop their own set of class rules with their pupils

Where behaviour occurs that we consider to be unacceptable, staff will use the following strategies:

- Ignoring behaviour (where safe and appropriate to do so)
- Give a clear instruction to the pupil to “stop” what they are doing
- Keep language to the very minimum
- Tell the pupil what you want them to do
- Distract / re-direct attention
- Removal of the item or object e.g. if throwing
- Removal of privileges
- Time to reflect / think about / discuss how to behave more appropriately

The School agreed approach to managing behaviour positively. Including where necessary the use of physical intervention:

Team Teach

Mary Rose Academy’s uses this holistic approach to behaviour management. The focus is on the use of de-escalation strategies which calm and reassure the pupil when they find themselves in difficult situations. On occasions physical intervention may be required to keep either the pupil or other pupils/staff safe. This would only ever happen as a last resort and adults using physical intervention need to have been given permission by the headteacher to do so. This also applies to volunteers and any other adults working in the school and/or assisting on school trips

All staff are trained in Team Teach and are supported by three qualified Team Teach trainers. If physical intervention is applied the incident is recorded using the form available at Reception. Following such an incident parents are informed on the same day by telephone and in writing. A positive behaviour plan is written.

Positive Behaviour Plans: (see appendix)

Some pupils require individual Positive Behaviour Plans to support them and to ensure that staff adopt a consistent approach to the managing their behaviour. These are made available to all staff and agreed by parents and where appropriate the pupils.

When to use physical interventions: DfE Guidance for Schools, May 2012

This part of the policy which relates to the reasonable use of force takes into account that at Mary Rose Academy it is understood that we have a legal duty to make reasonable adjustments for our children with regards to their disabilities and special educational needs (SEN).

What is reasonable force?

- 1) The term 'reasonable force' covers the broad range of actions used by most teachers at some point in their career that involve a degree of physical contact with pupils.
- 2) Force is usually used either to control or restrain. This can range from guiding a pupil to safety by the arm through to more extreme circumstances such as breaking up a fight or where a student needs to be restrained to prevent violence or injury.
- 3) 'Reasonable in the circumstances' means using no more force than is needed.
- 4) As mentioned above, schools generally use force to control pupils and to restrain them. Control means either passive physical contact, such as standing between pupils or blocking a pupil's path, or active physical contact such as leading a pupil by the arm out of a classroom.
- 5) Restraint means to hold back physically or to bring a pupil under control. It is typically used in more extreme circumstances, for example when two pupils are fighting and refuse to separate without physical intervention.
- 6) School staff should always try to avoid acting in a way that might cause injury, but in extreme cases it may not always be possible to avoid injuring the pupil.

Who can use reasonable force?

- 1) All members of school staff have a legal power to use reasonable force
Section 93, Education and Inspections Act 2006
- 2) This power applies to any member of staff at the school. It can also apply to people whom the head teacher has temporarily put in charge of pupils such as unpaid volunteers or parents accompanying students on a school organised visit.

When can reasonable force be used?

- 1) Reasonable force can be used to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property or from causing disorder.
- 2) In a school, force is used for two main purposes – to control pupils or to restrain them.
- 3) The decision on whether or not to physically intervene is down to the professional judgement of the staff member concerned and should always depend on the individual circumstances.
- 4) The following list is not exhaustive but provides some examples of situations where reasonable force can and cannot be used.

Schools can use reasonable force to:

- remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so;
- prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;

- prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others;
 - prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
 - restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.
 - Schools cannot:
 - use force as a punishment – it is always unlawful to use force as a punishment.

- Power to search pupils without consent

- In addition to the general power to use reasonable force described above, head teachers and authorised staff can use such force as is reasonable given the circumstances to conduct a search for the following “prohibited items”
 - knives and weapons
 - alcohol
 - illegal drugs
 - stolen items
 - tobacco and cigarette papers
 - fireworks
 - pornographic images
 - any article that has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property.

- Force cannot be used to search for items banned under the school rules.
